14 Square Dance Teams Competing In Three Divisions at Farm Show

HARRISBURG—Square dance teams from 14 counties will compete for $750 in prize premiums during the 1958 Pennsylvania Farm Show, Jan. 13-17, the State Farm Show Commission said Tuesday.

A total of 312 dancers in 39 teams will dance through their paces wearing special costumes, many of which will have been designed especially for the contest which replaces the Farm Show Rural Talent Festival, discontinued after 12 successful years.

There are three divisions in the folk dance contest, each to be judged separately, according to John B. McCool, Farm Show director. Prize awards total $250 for each division. Arrangements for the contest are being made by C J Lang, assistant state 4-H Club leader at the Pennsylvania State University.

Judges of the event will be Duke Regnier of the University of Illinois; Miss Bernice Scott, Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., and Charles Thomas of Woodbury, N. J.

Dance teams in Division A, all members under 21 years of age, include:

Geiger Senior 4-H Club, Freidens, Somerset County, Penn Juvenile Grange No. 419, Grampian, Clearfield County, Kampus Kids, Bloomsburg, Columbia County, Better Farm and Home Club, Middleburg, Snyder County, Welshample 4-H Club, Ashland, Schuylkill County, Berks County 4-H Council; Clearfield County Team, Westmoreland County 4-H Council; Youth Central Grange No. 1650, Germansville, Lehigh County, Carlisle High School, Cumberland County, two teams; Lykens Valley Barn Dancers, Millersburg Dauphin County, and Jenners Township Community Dance Team, Boswell, Somerset County.

All dance teams in Division B, contestants 18 to 30 years, represent senior extension clubs, except Johnstown Comet Club, Johnstown, Cambria County. Other entries represent clubs in Adams, Cumberland, Schuylkill, Berks, Lehigh, two teams, York, Franklin, India and Lebanon Counties.

Division C teams competitors 21 years and older, are:

Bedford County Senior Extension Club, North Penn "Y" Promenaders, Colmar, Somerset County; Adams County Senior Extension Club, Better Farm and Home Club, Middleburg, Snyder County; Franklin County Senior Extension Club; Schuylkill County Senior Extension Club, Bradford Grange No. 1219, Bigler, Clearfield County; Penn Grange No 534, Grampian, Harmony Team, Westover, Clearld County, Lawrence County Senior Extension Club, Circle Eight Dancers, Lock Haven, Clinton County; Cumberland County Senior Extension Club, Mountain Aires, Nanty Glo, Cambria County; Fleetwood Old Time iggers, Berks County, and Klingerstown Hoedowners, Millersburg, Dauphin County.

Chicago Editor Named Head of Farm Writers

Restaurants Being Checked For Oleo Use

State Secretary of Agriculture William L. Henning has warned proprietors of public eating places that they are in violation of a state law when they use colored oleomargarine.

"We are cracking down on establishments where colored oleo is used," Henning declared "Colored oleo cannot be used on dining tables or in the preparation of food in public places in Pennsylvania."

According to the State Oleomargarine Act of 1947, colored oleo can be sold only at wholesale and retail outlets for use in private residences, provided a special State license has been purchased by the seller.

Fines ranging from $60 for a first offense to $1,000 for third offenders can be assessed against violators of the law.

The State Bureau of Foods and Chemistry in the Department of Agriculture is responsible for enforcing the oleo law and other regulations. The 26 food agents in the state collect samples of products, tag each and forward them to one of the five state laboratories for analyses by chemists. This service is provided to assure consumers of wholesome products and to prevent misbranding and adulteration. Laboratories are located at Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Wilkes Barre, Erie and Pittsburgh.

HOLDING THE Grand Champion Hampshire ram at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago is Norman L. Hess, father of Edward and Arthur Hess who operate Green Meadows Farm, Bareville. The ram, out of Perfection, was judged best of the breed by Alex McKinzie of Oklahoma State University. (LF Photo)

ANOTHER GREEN Meadows entry was this ewe which also won a grand championship at the International. Holding her is Lloyd Smiege from Michigan who is also a Hampshire breeder. Green Meadows also had the best pen of rams, best pen of ewes, best flock. and won trophis on two ewes. (LF Photo)

TO PRACTICE SAFETY — This is easy to say — but still important. The family Christmas Tree is enjoyed by everyone but can be a fire hazard if improperly handled, be sure you get a fresh cut tree, keep it in water or some moist material, and do not smoke or have an open flame near it

TO REDUCE SPEED — With all vehicles both on the road and on the farm; with winter weather conditions facing us, speed is one of the most dangerous habits We are not referring only to the automobile; the modern tractors on snow, ice, or mud can get too much speed for the rest of the machinery and for general safety.

TO PRACTICE RAT CONTROL — During the early winter months rats migrate from the fields to the house and barn, they are seeking protection from the weather and a food supply. If you have these things for them, they will be with you all winter If they cannot find a suitable place, they will move on Offer them the worst of facilities and some poisoned bait and let's keep down the rat population.

TO IMPROVE CALF RAISING — Many new-born calves will be raised during the winter months for replacements, since they will be your future herd, they should get special attention so that they will have a chance to be better than their mothers Clean, dry, draft-free, warm, and sunny quarters are some of the equipment essentials. Top-quality roughage and special vitamin enforced calf growing rations should furnish the feed essentials. A special Calf-raising Extension Leaflet is available.

County Soil District to Supervise Tree Distribution, Planting Work

The Lancaster County Soil Conservation District Monday night took on the responsibility of distributing and supervising the planting of some 500,000 tree seedlings

The seedlings are being made available by the Glatfelter Pulp Wood Co, Gettysburg. They will be purchased from the state department of forests and waters and given to the conservation district free of charge.

The only restriction on their planting is that they be distributed to farmer-cooperators in the district and that they be planted under the supervision of the SCS work unit and forest conservationists.

In a letter to the conservation district, the firm said that a recent survey of reforestation in the state showed the greatest need to be in the southeastern portion of the Commonwealth

M Martin Muth, unit conservationist and John Kitch, district forester, will be in charge of the work. Preliminary discussion at the meeting indicated that some of the trees may be made available to the FFA and Boy Scouts who annualy plant trees on plots designated by the county district.

The first in a series of reports from cooperating agencies in the district was made by Rudolph York of the Farmers Home Administration. He said that the organization is presently concentrating mainly on two types of loans· those for the purchase of livestock, machinery and supplies and to institute soil conservation practices, and to build or repair farm buildings.

A popular misconception of FHA, he said, is that the agency is in business to make loans to "down and outers" He said this was far from the truth because there are very strict rules of eligibility for loans from FHA.

Muth reported the following accomplishments during November 12 new cooperators, 16 basic plans, 111 acres in conservation rotations, 90 acres stubble mulching, 137 acres strip cropping, 131 acres woodland protection, 18 acres woodland harvest cutting; 800 linear feet grass waterways; 4350 feet of diversions and two acres of obstruction removals

Cattle Strong, Hogs Moderate At Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Dec 9 —As road conditions improved and considering last week's sharp price increases cattle moved to market at a more normal pace with salable offerings even promising to exceed the early morning estimate. Slaughter steers and heifers predominated the scene with most of these being mixed good and choice Trading was uneven although steers and heifers were mostly strong Cows accounted for nearly 35 per cent and sold steady with bulls strong Around 5 per cent of the arrivals was stockers and feeders which sold steady.

STEERS and HEIFERS There was a part load choice 1112 lb slaughter steer at $26 00 while several loads and lots high-good to avrage choice 1000-1200 lb weight brought $24 00-25 00 Shipments mostly good were taken at $23 00 24 50 with mixed standard and good recording $21 00-24.00. There were mixed good and choice heifers at $22 50-23 75 with odd head choice reaching $25 00. Good heifers bulked at $20 00-22.00.

COWS and BULLS High utlity and commercial cows fere taken at $16 00-18 00. Mixed lots cutter and utility sold at $13 50-15 50 with canners and cutters selling generally at $11.00-14 00 The bulk of utility and commercial bulls realized $18 00-20 00 with a scattering at $20 50 and an individual good 1230 lb yearling bull at $22.00.

VEALERS & CALVES There was little price change for vealers or slaughter calves as slaughter calves again predominated the offerings and choice vealers were very scarce. Most choice vealers sold at $30 00 33 000, good $24.00-30.00 Meanwhile good 270-400 lb slaughter calves turned at $18.00-21.50.

STOCKERS & FEEDER CATTLE The volume of stocker and feeder cattle was rather limited Monday morning as the end of the season rapidly approaches. There was a load good and choice 688 lbs feeder steers at $22.00. Other loads

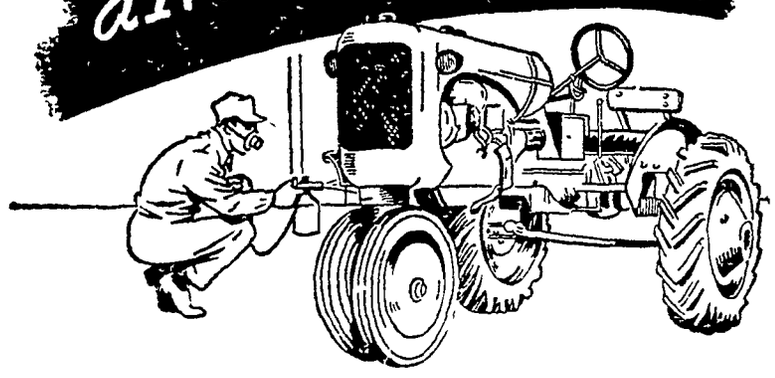
There's something about a New Paint Job!



There is a lot of satisfaction in having equipment that looks good But, more important, paint is the best protection against rust and corrosion We use live steam and a special solvent to remove rust, grease and old paint. Then we refinish with special farm equipment paint that perfectly matches the original Allis-Chalmers color.

The low cost will surprise you. Ask us to quote on your tractor, All-Crop harvester, and other major machines.

Carey-Strain Leghorns
270 Eggs, Hen-Housed Basis

That's the fine record made by 1800 Carey layers on the farm of L. M. Garrette. They averaged 75% with low losses and top quality eggs, based on carefully-kept records.

You can get these same high quality "Nickability-Bred" Leghorns nearby from Burling, who is franchised to produce them "direct from Carey."

Why not test a flock this year?

The Corn Belt Is Booming

THINGS sure are different in the Midwest this fall and winter than they are here Hay is a drug on the market at $20 a ton and corn is piled everywhere Yields were the best in years in the corn states

Soft corn is selling for 80 cents a bushel at the elevator in parts of Indiana and Missouri Hog feeders are grabbing it up because it feeds out well and with hogs even as low as $15 a hundred, a good profit can be made on this type of feed

Feeder cattle in that area are just as tight as they are here It's the same story everywhere—not many good cattle available and those that are for sale are at prices that tend to be prohibitive Most of the cattle going into the eastern cornbelt feeder operations are from the southern states rather than from the west

Broilers, too, follow the same trend Prices are so close to the cost of production that one instance was heard where a farmer netted $1 25 from 5,000 birds We talked to some city folks about the price of chicken in the stores in the major cities They agreed that broilers were the best meat buy, but added that it is possible to eat only so much chicken, regardless of the cost

Cornbelt farmers are generally optimistic about their prospective income situation this year This is the first year in the past five when both cattle and hog prices have been favorable and when both roughage and corn were available in plentiful supplies at a reasonable price

International's a Varied Show

ONE THING we learned last week at the International Livestock Exposition and at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago is that these two events are absolutely the tops in their field

The large daily papers in Chicago made quite an interesting point in their coverage of the 4-H Congress On their front pages they were carrying two big stories about teen-agers One was about a boy who had killed a young girl who had resisted his advances The other story was about the 4-H Clubbers who were being feted in the city for their accomplishments in fields ranging from cooking and canning to entomology to journalism

The contrast was easy to see Here was one group of young people getting some of the attention too often not afforded the boy or girl who is a good citizen and who is an asset to the community But never-the-less, the big black headlines were given over to the young hoodlem who will give all teen-agers a name that they do not deserve

The International also has a tremendous youth show and program The owner of the grand champion, Mrs Sue Secondino of New Goshen Ind showed first in the junior show She is 19 and has been married only nine months Boys and girls tending animals in the mammouth cattle barns far outnumber their elders They too are learning that by using their hands and heads they can accomplish more than by trying to slip by as easily as possible

Aside from the youth the International as a show is just about like a three ring circus—except that there are far more than three rings

At any given time there may be two or three classes of animals being placed in the main arena At the same instant there will be a class of hogs and a class of sheep being priced in their respective areas

Outside the International buildings are the carcass shows and judging and the wheat corn and hay shows and competitions

For the lover of fine livestock sheep and hogs the International Livestock Show is a must

But we have an idea that some of the better features of the show may find their way back to Pennsylvania Among the visitors we saw were Dr William Henning state secretary of agriculture and Don Cresswell director of information in the state department

We are sure that these two had more on their minds than just watching the show

BY JACK REICHARD

50 YEARS AGO (1907)

Thieves in the Warwick area of Lancaster County, preparing for Christmas back in 1907, broke into the cellar at the Warwick House and carried off a case of Golden Rod and two vases of other whiskey. Their visit was discovered the following day when it was found that entry had been made by breaking the lock on the cellar door

Other robberies reported in the area included the disappearance of chickens from N B Leaman's hen house, leaving a lone rooster as the sole survivor Fearing that the head of the flock also might disappear, it was killed and served in pot pie by the rightful owners

A trail of coal, on a new fallen snow, was traced from a coal and lumber yard leading along Water Street to New Street that morning in Warwick, indicating the bag in which it was carried had a hole

At Jacob Wissler's residence a pair of thieves were caught in their act but they failed to secure anything

CHILD RAN PEN IN EYE WRITING SANTA

Back in December, 1907, a Lancaster County child ran a pen point into her eye while writing a letter to Santa Claus

The unfortunate youngster was three-year old Minnie Rosenblum, of Columbia, who had paused a few moments in writing her letter to Santa and leaned forward, when the point of the pen penetrated her eye injuring the eye so badly it was feared the lost of sight would result

Lancaster County dealers, brewers and bottlers decided not to give Christmas presents to their customers in 1907, but instead to pool the money and contribute it to worthy charities Checks for $188 33 each were sent to St Joseph's Hospital, Lancaster General Hospital and the Lancaster Charity Society

The Lancaster County Poultry and Pigeon Assn announced its fifth annual show would take place in Rudy's Hall, Lititz, from Dec 24 to 28 inclusive in 1907

S M Huber was the president and Amos H Hershey, of Lititz, was the assocation secretary

THREE POINTS OF COMMON LAW 50 YEARS AGO

There were three points of common law a half century ago that were well known among farmers in general If one's dog ran out on the highway and frightened a team the dogs owner was responsible for any damage resulting If one's bees alighted on a passing horse and caused a runaway the beekeeper was liable for damage If a team was left unhitched and ran away the owner of the team was liable for damages resulting

During the spring of 1907 a large seed house advertised a limited number of packages of a new variety of lima beans containing twelve seeds at 25 cents As an inducement to the purchased a reward of $1,000 was offered to the grower who should raise a bush bearing 250 pods A lot of gardeners entered the contest on a modest scale, but when the season closed most of them failed to get enough beans to fill a saucer

At a session of the Pennsylvania State Grange Convention held at Harrisburg during December 1932 all routine business was halted in order to dispatch to Washington a proposal of opposition to legalization of beer

The 1 000 delegates joined in warning Congress that 'no individual ever brought prosperity into his home by drinking beer"

State Master E B Dorsett charged Congress was more intent on "trying to evade the Constitution and bring back beer" than in solving economic problems which have "brought ruin and despair" to the nation

John A McSparran, dry Democrat, moved that the convention endorse Master Dorsett's statement on beer legislation and sent it at once to Congress The motion was quickly seconded and approved unanimously by the assembly

MAN WITH GUN DEMANDED FLOOR

During an afternoon session of Congress, twenty-five years ago this week, Marlin R Kemmerer, department store worker from Allentown, stood up in the gallery and asked permission to address the Congress In his hand he held a revolver.

"I want the floor" Kemmerer shouted, when Representative Mass from Minnesota, a veteran of World War I, took the revolver from the young man, lessening the tension among Congress members

Police took Kemmerer in charge and later found two sticks of dynamite in the man's hotel room

SNEAK THIEVES OF XMAS TREES WARNED

Secretary Lewis E Staley, of the Department of Forests and Waters warned the public against cutting Christmas trees from State Forests or from privately-owned lands without the permission of the owner

It is unlawful in Pennsylvania to remove trees from land without the owner's consent There is a penalty of $25 for each tree or part thereof removed This law was passed in 1927 and since that time forest land owners have been alert to protect their holdings during the Christmas tree season.

At a hearing before the House Committee on Agriculture Dec. 17, 1932, Representative Nelson. Democrat, of Columbia, Mo, criticized governmental interference with both agriculture and industry and offered a seven-point program for the betterment of agriculture as follows

Repeal the Agriculture Marketing Act

Revise the tariff to restore demand abroad for American products

Extend the time and reduce interest rates on farm mortagages.

Adopt a policy of controlled expansion of the currency to produce "an honest dollar"

Eliminate Government subsidies, reduce expenses and let the farmer alone

Live With Joy

Lesson for December 15, 1957

NOBODY wants to be unhappy The trouble is, people look in the wrong places, or in the wrong ways, for happiness They look for it under the Christmas tree, or at the race track, or in the taverns, or in books . They think happiness is something you can pay for and pick up like a ticket to New York Well, you can get short-lived happiness, of sorts, in many of these and other ways But why is it that so many old people not only look sour but are sour? Isn't it because they are disillusioned about happiness? It's something they chased but never caught or if they caught it they could not long keep it Happiness is always the big fish that got away

Dr. Foreman

For Now and for Always

Realizing this many Christians have worked out another scheme in their minds They figure that happiness, or joy is not to be had in this life, only in the next Indeed some have gone so far as to believe that the unhappier you are in this world the more happiness will be piled on your plate at the heavenly banquet And so they will even go to a lot of trouble to make themselves as miserable as possible, like doing without proper food and clothes, wearing hair shirts and heavy chains around their bodies, so earning happiness in the future life

All this is quite off the Bible's beam The worldly man is right in thinking happiness is to be found here and now The hair-shirter who wakes up at 3 A M to beat himself with a whip while he sings a mournful Psalm is right in thinking real happiness ought to be a lasting thing proof against pain and disaster But the worldling is wrong in thinking happiness is the same thing as kicks and that just anybody can have it, and the hair-shirter is wrong in thinking you have to wait for death to usher you to the land of joy The Bible tells of true joy, and it is something for now and for always.

The Quality of Joy

Bible religion, especially when we come to the New Testament, is a religion of joy The very word "Gospel" means "Good news." One of our Lord's final words was "—that my joy may be in you and that your joy may be full" (John 15 11) Paul, in writing to his friends at Philippi, was writing in circumstances which could hardly be called cheerful He was getting older and felt his age, he was not and perhaps never had been a completely well man, he was so poor he needed the help his friends sent him, and furthermore he was in jail Yet it was precisely in those circumstances that he wrote the classic passage about joy, in Philippians 4 beginning "Rejoice in the Lord always"

A thing like joy never exists by itself It is always in somebody. It is a name for the way some people are True joy is woven in with life So it can best be observed and studied not as if you could put it into a test-tube or under a microscope You can see what joy is by watching the people who have it When Paul talked about love, and joy, and faith, people paid attention, they did not throw the letters into the waste-basket, because they knew him and they knew he had lived these things before he wrote about them They knew that in his life there was no fear, they knew that he had learned the secret in whatever state he was, to be content

How to Have It

Paul did not 'have" joy as you might have a parakeet which you let out of its cage to play with now and then He 'lived" in joy it was the atmosphere of his life But with Paul, as with all Christians who have learned the same secret joy did not come alone The Christian's joy is a treasure beyond price

If it is not the "joy of the Lord," it is not genuine So it is always found only in those who have the Christian faith and the Christian love The selfish life, the loveless life never can know what joy is This is one great reason why true happiness—and the only true happiness is the joy of the Christian—cannot be found by chasing it For the person who seeks joy for his own benefit is still selfish, and selfishness and joy are eternally strangers

German Yule Program Theme Of Society 8

"Christmas in Germany" was the theme of the program presented by Mrs Harvey Hartemstine at the meeting of Society 8 Saturday at the home of Mrs Henry Musser, R1 Mount Joy

The members responded to roll call by telling what they would like most for Christmas High on the list were such things as peace on earth, good music, good fellowship, health, happiness and a white Christmas

New officers were installed by Mrs Abram Weidman, first vice president of the county organization Mrs Abner Risser was installed as treasurer, Miss Ada Kraybill as corresponding secretary and Mrs Clyde Sumpman as recording secretary

You can depend on this Support. Big Eggs are worth big premiums most of the year. Mediums and Small are usually a "break-even" or loss.

It costs as much in floor space, labor, feed and marketing for low-grade eggs as for these Big Premium eggs.

This makes sense . . . Switch to a big egg Leghorn and get more for your labor That means a genuine Mount Hope bird—the original Big Egg producer, based on 35 years' breeding for this big-money factor Get up to 90% "above Mediums"

Indiana Hereford International Grand Champion Steer; Brings $30

Green Meadows, PSU Entries Also Prove Champions

By Bob Best

CHICAGO — A 1,000 pound Hereford steer, born in Texas and raised in Indiana, was named grand champion steer of the year at the International Livestock Exposition Showing the grand champion of the show was Mrs. Sue L. Secondino of New Goshen, Ind , a 19 year old bride of nine months.

The steer is named, Honeymoo since Mrs. Secondino and her 23 year old husband, Pete, purchased the animal at the Straus Medina Hereford Ranch in San Antonio during their honeymoon trip.

The steer was sired by TR Zato Heir 88.

Pennsylvania State University, which showed the grand champion steer last year, a Shorthorn named PS Troubador, was not shut out of the winners circle completely. Their pen of three Angus steers won the grand championship and a good little Hereford steer ran second to "Honeymoon" all through the competition He won the grand championship of the Hereford division, but was beaten out of the reserve championship by an Angus entry.

"Honeymoon" made Mr and Mrs. Secandino farm owners in Indiana by bringing $30 a pound when sold Thursday. Paying the record price was Arthur Godfrey, radio and television star who was making personal appearances at the International Horse Show

The Secondinos were living with her parents.

WHAT IS CANCER?

Cancer is defined as "a group of diseases characterized by uncontrolled growth and spread of cells" If detected early, this malignant process can often be cured by surgery or by radiation, the American Cancer Society says

Figures on your Settlement Sheets will convince you that premiums for "Large" over "Mediums" and "Small" make the BIG DIFFERENCE.

Babcock's

Healthy Chicks Make Great Layers!

Here's An Incentive Plan That Really Works.

Do you hire help to raise your pullets? To handle your layers?

Suppose your hired man takes care of 3000 pullets for you. Give him a bonus of 10¢ for each good pullet you house. He'll yell every time a pullet dies, every time they "pile up". He'll keep foxes, dogs, etc away from them. If he raises a better flock of pullets you're ahead If he raises an extra 100 pullets you have your money back because 3000 pullets are just as easy to care for in the laying house as 2900. Your hired man will like it. So will you. (I assume you are not a "tight wad")

Babcock Bessies You Buy From Us and Bessies in Random Sample Test All The Same.

We are often tempted to mate up some special birds to enter in Random Sample Tests. If we ever do we won't call them "Bessies". Also we will put out an ad telling what we are doing and tell all our customers by letter.

All Bessies entered in the Random Sample Tests are the same as you purchase from us and any of our Babcock Franchise Hatcheries. Actually the Bessie matures too slowly to look real good in Random Sample Tests. They would be ideal for tests running for 15 months of lay. In spite of this, Bessies were 1st and 2nd for egg production per pullet housed at Florida; in the first quartile for all factors at Western New York Random Sample Test; in the third quartile at Central New York where they made a miserable showing; first at the New Jersey Flock Mating test; 6th at Missouri Random Sample Test.

Right now is the time to order Bessies Phone us collect and we'll book you today for any hatch you choose.

In the sheep show, entries from Green Meadows Farms, Bareville, took all the honors in the Hampshire breeding class They showed grand champion ram, ewe, and flock This repeated similar sweep made in the breeding classes at the Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition last month Green Meadows is owned and operated by Edward and Arthur Hess

Penn State herdsmen were pleased with the showing of their first prize junior bull calf which became the first Polled Hereford bull ever to win the American Polled Hereford Assn registry of merit award at the International P S Polled Zato previously had won the reserve grand championship at the Pennsylvania National and first place at the Eastern National at Timonium, Md

Shorthorn beef cattle shown by the University garnered second places in three classes—two year old bull, summer yearling bull and senior yearling heifer They also won fourth in trio of steers, any age, and fth in senior steer calves.

In sheep classes the University had the grand champion pen of three Hampshire wethers, also third and fourth in individual Hampshire wethers Shropshires had the third in pen of heavy wethers and Southdown awards included third place heavy wether and fourth best pen of wethers. In sheep breeding classes the University won seconds in pen of rams and pen of ewe lambs and fourths in ram lambs and ewe lambs

Millarden Farms, Annville, this year again dominated the Angus breeding classes having a first place summer yearling bull and a champion female The Grand Championship in the Angus bull division was taken by Tolan Farms, Pleasant Plains, Ill

Dean Arthur D. Weber of Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kans, judged the steer classes. Judge of the wether classes was Dr A J Dyer of the University of Missouri

In addition to more than 5,000 spectators, Gov Harold W Handley of Indiana was on hand to see the grand champion steer picked.

egg prices going up! Purina prices low!

This is the time to make good egg profits...

Good news is here at last—egg prices are on the way up.

And more good news—the forecast is for one of the lowest Purina Chow prices in 10 years.

This is a ready-made opportunity for you to make some mighty good egg money—especially if you believe in feeding your hens good feed for top egg production.

Save on Feed Cost, Too

Still more good news—records from 10,000 Purina customers show that most poultrymen can cut feed cost per dozen by feeding Purina.

These folks who kept track and reported their results took only 4½ pounds of Purina to produce each dozen eggs. That's a full 1 pound less than the U.S. average as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture. And that amounted to a saving on Purina of 5 to 7 cents a dozen.

Help Your Hens Lay More

Now is the time to help your hens lay more of those good-priced eggs. If you're not already feeding Purina, start them on Purina Layena right away. More poultrymen—by far—feed it than any other ration, because it does help hens lay their best. And at very low cost per dozen.

No matter what size flock you have or what your grain situation may be... talk over your feeding needs with us. Let us help you start your pullets on Purina Laying Chows for lots of eggs at about 5 to 7¢ per dozen less feed cost than average.

Poultry Health Hint—Pullets need worming before going to the laying house. Wormed birds are healthier, need less feed. And Purina Research has developed low-cost Purina Liquid Poultry Wormer for you. Just put it in the drinking water. The cost—only ¼¢ to ½¢ per bird! Come in and see us soon.

FRESH FRUIT CUP

SAVORY DRESSING PINEAPPLE CARTWHEELS
CANDIED SWEET POTATOES BROCCOLI CORN
CHEESE STUFFED FRUIT PINEAPPLE DRESSING

FROZEN CRANBERRY PIE COFFEE

HOW TO STUFF THE TURKEY

Salt the inside cavity — ⅛ teaspoon salt per pound of bird.

Don't pack the stuffing. If you're not planning to roast the bird right away, chill stuffing before filling bird.

HOW TO TRUSS — Bind legs and wings close to body of the bird. After stuffing bird, skewer neck skin to back. Fold wings so tips hold neck skin. Close body cavity opening with skewers and cord. Tie legs to tail.

HOW TO ROAST — Grease skin with melted cooking fat. Place bird breast down in shallow pan. Unless bird has generous layers of fat underneath the skin, cover with rectangle of cheesecloth or thin white cloth large enough to cover top and sides. Do not cover pan; do not add water, use low temperature. When bird is approximately three-fourths done, turn it s breast up, and replace cloth.

Plan roasting schedule so turkey is out of oven 15 to 25 minutes before serving. Bird absorbs juices and is easier to carve.

SAVORY STUFFING

This is real, old fashioned stuffing.

Giblets
12 cups toasted bread cubes
½ cup minced parsley
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
3 teaspoons sage
1 cup milk
2 beaten eggs

Cook giblets tender; reserve one and one-half cups stock. Combine bread cubes, parsley, onion, celery and seasonings. Add milk, egg, chopped giblets, and giblet stock; chill one hour to blend flavors. Stuffing for 10 to 12 pound turkey.

PINEAPPLE CARTWHEELS

Try this — for the best trimmed "bird" that ever came to your table. Cut rounds of jellied cranberry sauce, right out of the can — and put one each on a bright wheel or circle of pineapple.

CANDIED SWEET POTATOES

Wash and scrub six sweet potatoes thoroughly. Do not pare. Put one-half cup of water on potatoes in saucepan. Cover tightly. Cook until soft — about 30 minutes. Remove skins after cooking.

To candy — Halve or slice peeled potatoes. Melt one-third cup butter or margarine and one-fourth cup brown sugar in skillet on low heat. Add potatoes and cook over medium heat until well glazed and heated through. Turn several times.

CHEESE STUFFED FRUIT

Dry drained, chilled peaches and pears well on paper towels. Fill hollow with softened cream cheese. Put a red cherry, pitted date in the center of two halves before sealing. Make a ruffle, pipe cream cheese through a pastry tube. Serve on curly endive with pineapple dressing.

PINEAPPLE DRESSING
(serve with fruit salads)

⅓ cup sugar
4 teaspoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup unsweetened pineapple juice
¼ cup orange juice
2½ tablespoons lemon juice
2 well beaten eggs
2 3-ounce packages cream cheese

Mix sugar, cornstarch, and salt; stir in fruit juices. Cook on low heat 20 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Slowly stir in eggs. Return to low heat and cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Cool slightly. Soften cream cheese; beat in cooked mixture. Chill. Makes two cups.

FROZEN CRANBERRY PIE
(Six to eight servings)

CRUMB CRUST:

¾ cup gingersnap or graham cracker crumbs
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons softened butter

Blend crumbs, one tablespoon sugar, and butter thoroughly. Line bottom of freezing tray, saving one-fourth cup crumbs for topping.

CRANBERRY FILLING:

1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 cups (one pound can) whole cranberry sauce
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon almond extract

Chill evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form through milk (about 15 to 20 minutes) Whip until stiff (about 1 minute). Add lemon juice and whip very stiff (about 2 minutes longer). Combine cranberry sauce, two tablespoons sugar, and almond extract together in bowl. Mix well. Fold in whipped evaporated milk. Spoon over crumb crust. Top with remaining crumbs. Freeze until firm.

Often at Christmas time and over the New Year holiday we look for some special main dishes to serve at buffets or for late evening snacks Here are a few recipes that might serve that purpose for you.

NOEL SHRIMP BAKE

¾ to 1 pound fresh mushrooms or one cup canned mushrooms
¼ cup butter or shortening
2 cups cleaned cooked or canned shrimp
2 cups cooked rice
1 cup chopped green pepper
1 cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped pimento
1 No 2 can (two and one-half cups) tomatoes, drained
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon chili powder
½ cup butter or shortening, melted

Cook mushrooms in one-fourth cup butter just until tender Combine with shrimp, rice, vegetables and seasonings Place in greased 2 quart casserole Pour one-half cup butter over the combined ingredients Bake in 300 degree oven 50 to 60 minutes. Trim with wreath of parsley and stuffed olive slices Makes 6 to 8 servings.

DELUXE HOLIDAY WAFFLES

2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks, beaten
2 cups sour milk
6 tablespoons butter or shortening, melted
2 egg whites, beaten stiff

Sift flour, baking powder, soda, salt together. Add beaten egg yolks to milk, then add mixture to dry ingredients, beating until smooth. Add melted butter or shortening Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites Bake in preheated waffle baker Makes 8 waffles.

Two sauces to serve over your Deluxe Holiday Waffles —

TURKEY ALA KING

1 cup sliced mushrooms
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup butter
3 tablespoon flour
2 cups milk
Salt and pepper
1 beaten egg yolk
2½ cups diced cooked turkey
2 tablespoons finely cut pimento

Lightly brown mushrooms and green pepper in butter on low heat, add flour and blend, add milk and seasonings, cook until thick, stirring constantly Stir some of the hot mixture into egg yolk and add to remaining hot mixture, continue cooking 10 minutes, add turkey and pimento. Serves six.

HAM AND CHEESE SAUCE

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup cooked or boiled ham
½ cup chopped sharp cheese

Melt butter on simmer heat. Use wooden spoon or rubber spatula to blend in flour; cook on low heat, stirring until smooth and bubbly Stir in milk. Bring to a boil, boil 1 minute stirring constantly, cover and turn to simmer for 10 minutes; add salt and pepper. Add one-half cup chopped cooked or boiled ham and one-half cup chopped sharp cheese. (This will melt and blend for flavor)

An outstanding characteristic of K-137 KimberCHIKS

As of January 1, 1956, K-137 Kimberchiks led in early egg size in all three official random sample tests in which they were entered—California, Missouri, and Utah. Since large eggs are often worth 100% more than small, and 35-50% more than medium, this characteristic of the K-137 can make a great difference in income during the pullet year.

The K-137 is also noted for its good egg quality, both shell and interior. The high percentage of firm albumen results in more AA quality eggs.

The K-137 has good livability... 93.4% to about 18 months in the three official tests in which they were entered last year.

We invite you to compare the performance of this outstanding stock under your own management.

JAMAICA BANANAS start their ripening process enroute to consumers in theUnited States and other lands. Here boatmen load a refrigerated ship at one of the island's many banana ports In some areas, lighters such as these carry the green bunches to ships anchored off-shore in deeper waters (Jamaica Tourist)

Sugar Cane is Cash Crop, Goat Staple of Jamaican Farmer

(Special to Lancaster Farming)
by ERNEST J. NEILL

HALF WAY TREE, Jamaica—"Keep left, mahn!"

To the Yankee, driving on the left hand side of the street, there's a feeling of uneasiness at first. With Mitch piloting the Prefect—a small, British Ford, this word of warning was almost constant. Driving rules are strict, and even with an international driver's license some delay is encountered in obtaining a Jamaican permit.

But the Prefect functioned to perfection on mountain roads, through the flatlands west of Kingston, deep into the Grand Cayman Estates where sugar cane and bananas are grown commercially.

Seeing a native walking along balancing a bunch of green bananas on his (or her) head, perhaps a bundle of sugar cane, an armful of stove wood, even a wash tub filled with fruit wonders one When asked about casualties in this national sport, one native — perhaps it was "Sonny Boy," the Montego Bay boatman — answered, "Only in joustling, or perhaps during the Junkanoo (John Canoe) festivals"

Every home has its goat Here is a milk supply and often the young kids wind up in the cook pot It's difficult to distinguish any farming plots among the country homes — which range from thatched roof huts to frame homes of monotonous architecture But often there are a few banana trees, a few coconut trees,

Sugar cane is still the Number One agricultural product in this island, and at the time of our visit the fields were were "caning," Miss Wallace explained — the stalks were taking on the divisions you see in corn stalks before tasseling. Some wild cane was in tassel as October opened, and it was recalled that in Puerto Rico in late November entire fields were in tassel.

You might imagine bananas and coconuts grow wild, but assurances were given each tree is private property. Some residents told there is a nine-months' jail term for those violating this law, picking some one else's bananas

Banana harvest was underway throughout the island. At Port Antonio much activity was in evidence at United Fruit Co. docked its Antarctic Seas. Early in the morning the "beep-beep" of the tiny train indicated the future cargo was coming to town. Natives trudged down the roads with green bunches atop their heads, in perfect balance Going price at the moment was a shilling a hand, with a minimum of nine hands accepted per bunch With the shilling worth approximately 14 cents U S, the producer would receive approximately $1 26 for a stalk of bananas.

It is customary here to see youngsters chewing on a piece of sugar cane stalk To them it's candy Two schools of thought advance from this practice, one that it develops strong, white teeth—while others point out the dangers of sugar to teeth. Perhaps one might deduce the jaws benefit most

Clumps of bamboo grow everywhere, along streams, high in the hills—and across a valley a group of bamboo trees gives the appearance of gigantic green feathery fronds waving softly in the

Rats Eat Big

The State Department of Agriculture reports Pennsylvania farmers are paying a big boarding bill annually for rats that come to dinner on farms.

Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the Bureau of Plant Industry, said each rat eats and contaminates approximately $22 in food per year Since there are an astimated 170 million rats in the nation more than 3.7 billion dollars in food is destroyed by the pests, he pointed out.

There are no accurate figures available on the rat destruction of grains in Pennsylvania, but Dr. Guyton estimates that it costs Pennsylvania farmers at least one-half million dollars in losses annually.

One day the banana boat was in Kingston, a couple days later on the north coast, loaded from trucks or two-wheeled carts pulled by one donkey in a double shaft, sometimes with two donkies—one outside the shafts on the ditch-side of the road. Tractor-pulled wagons were also noted, with bunches carefully packed to avoid bruising by use of banana leaves

There's a story that natives feel as embarrassed without something on their heads as the U.S. lady does without an Easter bonnet If it rains—and there is a deathly fair in some of the islands of colds (in the knee, in the toe, in the head)—ou may find one with newspaper about her neck Perhaps she'll rush to the nearby field for a banana leaf to use as a rain hat. Whatever it is on his or her head, from an object the size of a jewel box to a wash tub, it's in perfect balance—afoot, on donkey or bicycle.

Goats, biccles, burros — these share the road with ou, and despite your interest in the traffic and scenery — KEEP LEFT, MAHN!

Since Kingston lacks true sandy beaches, the map disclosed a nice highway leading north across the island to Buff Bay, through Newcastle, Hardware Gap, 4,350 feet up—spelled both Hardware and Hardwar — crossing the Blue Mountains, famous for coffee. Checking out of the Courtleigh Manor, we were looked upon with askance by the cleck, but another customer—an army man stationed at Newcastle—assured us anyone could drive the first 12 miles that boasted but 300 turns.

Bamboo and banana grew more prolific the higher we drove—some 40 miles in six hours, due in part to innumerable stops for picture taking, to view the magnificent vistas of Kingston and its bay, to spot a long-tailed humming bird or a mile-long stretch of tiny white orchids growing from the earth. The more showy tree orchids (air plants) bloom primarily in June, residents advised. Vultures soared overhead, gallinules inhabited the swamplands, grassquits and bananaquits flitted from bush to bush, while doves of all varieties scurried off the highway.

On the other side of the mountain, vistas of the north shor appeared. Tiny huts cling to precipitous mountainsides. Quite often each home had a separate cook house, an dseldom were these equipped with chimneys. Smoke rolled out from under the eaves, adding to the conglomeration of odors you encounter in the tropics.

Along the shore a group of workmen gathered about an open fire Here was unmistakabl proof of a crustacean—probably lobster—cooking for the noon meal And one of the later gastronomic delights of the trip proved to be lunch featuring fried lobster—excellent.

By the time we arrived at Port Antonio, around 4 p.m., on the northeast coast there was hunger. No place between Kingston and Port Antonio for food, no diner, no Howard Johnsons The manager of the Titchfield Hotel—once owned by Errol Flynn—took pity upon us, and announced she would serve us high tea at 4 A shower to shake the dust of the day, then tea in the huge ball room converted to the hotel lobby. a husky quantity of sandwiches—turkey and ham—tea and cookies.

To one side was the bay of Port Antonio To the other a lawn flanked by twin swimming pools, connected by a concrete slide.

What quiet this was, compared to the calypso of the night before when the Delgados hosted us to an evening at one of the Kingston night clubs. At the big band's intermission, Mr. Delgado brought around a three-piece native band. guitar, a saxaphone handmade of tin and bamboo, a marimba (or mambo) box—a packing crate, hole in one side, wire strung across with five steel strap springs of varying length. Each spring gave a different tone. The sax was most melodic.

Fortunately, some of the calypso words could be distinguished. Some could not—fortunately. But the evening of nightclubbing, with hired band and all, came to less than $1.50 per person.

Next week — floating down the Rio Grande by raft — a bamboo raft.

Tobacco Buying In Conn. Valley 40 Pct. Complete

Tobacco buyers in the Connecticut Valley were out early this year and it is estimated that the binder crop there is now about 40 per cent sold

Quality there is the lowest in years due to the drouth Production is down It is estimated that only 3,000 acres of binder were grown during the past season

Valley growers are under the government price support program which gives them a 60 cent a pound floor under the product Most of the tobacco moved sold for this figure or a few cents higher.

Of four major cigar manufacturers, two are not buying strongly One company is showing only a moderate interest in the crop, and the other has been very strong in the field.

A note of interest in the tobacco trade is that buyers in the burley areas of Tennessee and Kentucky are buying leaf this year that would never have reached the auction floor in other years. The tobacco most in demand there is a large heavy dark leaf instead of the usual light mild variety.

This year only about one per cent of the burley crop is going into government storage. This one per cent is light mild leaf that usually commands a premium in the cigarette trade.

Southern farmers are now growing tobacco more like it is grown here — using plenty of nitrogen to get a heavy dark leaf

Just how far this trend in production will continue is a matter of conjecture and some concern to Southern producers and buyers If the cigarette companies continue to desire strong dark leaves, it will mean the development of new types and varieties of tobacco plants and a drastic shift in the methods of production.

Early Winter Months Are Good Time to check Livestock Health

The month of December, when the pressure of farm work slackens somewhat, is a good time to have livestock examined and to inspect the farm's physical plant, the American Foundation for Animal Health suggested today.

The slack farm season is a good time to have any needed surgery performed on livestock, the Foundation said. Such operations as dehorning cattle, trimming the feet of herd bulls and removing tusks from boars should be done this month. Farmers should have their veterinarian check dairy cows for mastitis, and bulls for fertility.

"Livestock need physical examinations just as much as humans do," Foundation officials said. "An annual physical checkup in December or January can pay real dividends, especially in detecting latest diseases before they have a chance to spread through the whole herd, or in learning of nutritional or breeding problems which could hamper profits.

"Ventilation of poultry houses, hog houses and dairy barns should also be checked. Frost formed on the ceiling of the barn or house is an indication of faulty ventilation. It contributes to pneumonia in pigs by causing the animals to become chilled.
